LEAN MANUFACTURING

Barn Light Electric is proud to carry on the spirit and ingenuity of American manufacturing. To continue the storied legacies of historic companies, we craft our products by hand using time-honored techniques to ensure that every piece we produce is durable, long-lasting, and unique.

In addition, the benefits of American craftsmanship extend beyond the high quality of our products. Training and employing local artisans keep jobs in our community and improves our local economy.

Our facility and processes emphasize lean manufacturing strategies through a thoughtful organization of labor, efficient procedures, and knowledgeable workers. The majority of our materials are procured from American suppliers allowing us to support fellow domestic manufacturers. By bypassing overseas supply chains, we avoid the time constraints other lighting companies face.

At Barn Light, we believe that these principles are integral to the success of a manufacturer. Styles and trends come and go, but the values of American craftsmanship will last forever.
